Environmental Excellence Awards Nomination Form

Nominations must be received by 5pm on October 18, 2019

Every year at ATCEM we present Environmental Excellence Awards to recognize the hard work performed every day for preserving our environment for future generations. This year, we will recognize the many faces of Environmental Excellence in Alaska for the following categories:

- Rising Star Award – awarded to an individual who is just getting started in the tribal environmental field, but shows great promise to be an up and coming environmental leader in their community.
- Environmental Leader Award – awarded to an established tribal environmental professional who demonstrates outstanding motivation and leadership with environmental projects in their community.
- Lifetime Achievement Award – awarded to an individual who has made long lasting environmental contributions that improve environmental health in their community over the course many years. This individual is a true inspiration and deserving of the highest honor.
- Helping Hands Award – awarded to an individual, team, or organization that has provided exceptional services to support environmental projects in tribal communities.
- Community Group Award – awarded to a group or a team that has demonstrated outstanding environmental leadership in their community and has worked together to improve their local environment.

*All nominations will be reviewed by an Anonymous Selection Committee. ****
